

Providing Increased Access to Quality Psychiatric Care Through Telehealth

Eliza Brink (she/her/hers), DNP, PMHNP
Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner
Spruce Psychiatric Associates
Associate Teaching Professor
University of Washington

About me

Psychiatric Associates

A background image showing a group of five people (three men and two women) sitting around a light-colored wooden table in a meeting room. They are all looking at laptops, suggesting a collaborative work environment. The image is faded to allow the text to stand out.

Not all telehealth is the same.

Benefits

Increased access

Increased demographic of patients served

Improved coordination of care

Increased compliance with follow up

Decreased no shows

Improved medication compliance

Decreased provider burn out and flexibility

Practical Barriers

Personal preference for in-person

Technical difficulties

Insurance coverage

Laws and regulations

Improving access through telehealth

A large orange circle is positioned on the left side of the slide, partially cut off by the edge.

Questions and contact

Eliza Brink (she/her/hers), DNP, PMHNP

Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner

Spruce Psychiatric Associates

Associate Teaching Professor

University of Washington

ewbrink@uw.edu

