Emergency Room

are hospitalized due to flu-related complications?

Flu season is upon us and its effect on your staff and patients can be dramatic; be prepared, don't get caught understaffed...

Washington's nurses and allied health staff have been working hard to ensure patients are getting the care they need and deserve during this flu season. The Washington State Registry Program (WSRP) applauds their efforts and extends appreciation for all they do and all that you do to support great patient care - Thank you!

During this flu season, if you find your facility needing additional staff, please remember that as a WSHA Member, you have access to more than 25 pre-qualified Washington State Registry Program certified staffing agencies all via a single, and FREE, master contract; it may just be the simple solution you are looking for when facing unexpected temporary staffing needs.

If you need advice, assistance, or have questions about this free program for WSHA Members, call or e-mail Diane Adams, RN, BSN at 609-240-5006 or dadams@WAregistry.com. Be well!!!
